BASIS FOR WITHDRAWAL REQUEST

3. The basis for the request for withdrawal is 37 C.F.R. 10.40(c) §(s) (1)(iv) and (1)(v)

Explanation (including brief description of exhibits, if any):

37 CFR 10.40 (c) (1) (iv) - Applicant is impossible to contact except by mail and e-mail. And then contact is only at Applicant's convenience which may be days or weeks later. Applicant said she resides at the given address but she does not. It is a box in a private commercial mail facility. So it is impossible to find her at her given residence address. In another application, application serial number 09/776,493, Applicant insists on second guessing everything that we do. She sends long written explanations and complaints that are no help. It takes hours to respond to the written messages which only elicits additional long explanations and complaints. Applicant has explained in writing that she does not like anything we are doing.

37 CFR 10.40 (c) (1) (v) - When a restriction requirement was made in application serial number 09/776,493, Applicant demanded that a traverse be made despite our advice. We made the traverse and it failed. When the patent examiner indicated that there was allowable subject matter in application serial number 09/776,493, we prepared an Amendment accepting the allowable subject matter and requested a retainer of $500 if that were a satisfactory response or a retainer of $1200 if Applicant wanted us to also argue about the single remaining claim. Applicant countered by sending a check for $500 and later demanding that we also make an Argument regarding all the claims including those that had not been elected. Upon further review, we decided that the best course of action was to file the Amendment accepting the allowable subject matter and pursue any other claims in a divisional application. When this was conveyed to Applicant, she did not understand and insisted that we still argue about the other claims. Upon a third review, we continued to feel that the best course of action was to file the Amendment accepting the allowable subject matter and pursue any other claims in a divisional application. No response to this was made prior to the filing of the Amendment and paying a one month extension fee despite the sending of three e-mails. After the Amendment was filed, Applicant sent a ten page e-mail that she wanted us to make a full argument.
